Answer

MINISTER OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT
(SHRI PRAKASH JAVADEKAR)
(a) to (d) : National Education Policies of 1968 and 1986 (modified in 1992) provide for formation of Indian Education Service as an All India Service. However, there was no consensus among the State Governments and as such the proposal was dropped. The Committee constituted for Evolution of the New Education Policy has comprehensively examined the matter and recommended for the establishment of Indian Education Service. Recommendation of the Committee has been incorporated in Some Inputs for Draft National Education Policy, 2016 which is available at MHRD's website.
